"It's always been word of mouth for me, I've never done any advertising," Vic explained. Once she had done some work, everything, from drawing, painting, to sculpture. See all the exhibitions.

Philosophy

Word of mouth landed Vic this "very challenging" task in 1999. Her job was to spend time in Kenya and to photograph the Victoria says that she never quite knows where the next job will take her; each job is different to the next.

Photography has also provided Vic with the opportunity to travel. Her most recent journeys overseas include going to Kenya.
